GROWERS OF WOOL

Get Together and Form a Pool to Cut Out the Middleman

The wool growers' pool is now a reality. The resolutions formulated by them were adopted at a meeting in Lexington on Tuesday, Dec. 7. Senator J. W. Newman made a statement relative to the saving that would be accomplished by a pool of wool growers, of from 5 to 10 cents per pound.

It was agreed to call a meeting at the various county seats Saturday, Dec. 18, to elect county boards of control, and on Dec. 21 a State meeting will be held in Louisville.

The call was signed by the temporarily elected executive board and in part is as follows:

"To the Wool Growers of Kentucky—

"Heretofore we have sold our wool separately and have permitted three or four middle men to make each from one to three cents per pound, thereby losing us not less than five cents per pound. There are from ten to fifteen million pounds of wool clipped annually in this State and if it were pooled and sold direct to the manufacturer, it would cost him no more and save our farmers not less than half a million dollars annually."

The hat pins we have for the Christmas trade are beauties and will be a joy forever to the lady who receives one for a holiday present.

A specific for pain—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, strongest, cheapest liniment ever devised. A household remedy in America for 25 years.

Trains By Phone.

The Louisville & Nashville railroad is installing a complete up-to-date telephone train-dispatching circuit between New Orleans and Mobile. This telephone circuit will be the first in that section. This is the second circuit installed by this road, the former one being between Louisville and Cincinnati, and is giving entirely satisfactory service in all particulars.

A nice gift makes a "Merry Xmas." You can find the gift at Jones' Jewelry Store.

STEAMER WRECKED.

Strikes Snag and Sinks in Thirty Feet of Water.

While backing away from a landing at Glen Mary, on the Kentucky river, the steamer Park City, owned by Williams brothers, struck a snag. Half an hour later the boat, with her cargo of whiskey consigned to the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse Company of Louisville, had settled in thirty feet of water.

STERNWHEEL PACKET.

The steamer is a sternwheel packet, built in 1883. They paid $10,000 for the boat, and two months ago spent $2,500 in repairs.

One hundred and ninety-two barrels of whiskey, valued at $70 a barrel, taken aboard near Camp Nelson, went down with the steamer. The boat also carried 600 cases of bottled whiskey. The value of the bottled whiskey is about $7,000, while that in barrels is valued at about $13,440.

Sues Insurance Company.

Hon. O. H. Pollard, of Jackson, has filed suit in the Breathitt Circuit Court against the Frankfort Marine, Accident and Plate Glass Insurance Company of Frankfort for $1,375 damages. The plaintiff's petition alleges that, under his policy of insurance which he held with defendant company, the company bound itself to indemnify him in the case of permanent injury of the nature alleged in his petition in the sum sued for, and alleges that he was permanently injured on October 26, 1909, by the falling of a window of a Louisville & Nashville passenger train while enroute from Louisville to Cincinnati, which crushed the fingers of his right hand so as to cause a permanent injury.

"I have been somewhat reticent, but Doan's Rhugetals gave just the result desired. They act mildly and regulate the bowels perfectly."—George B. Krause, 306, Walnut Ave., Altoona, Pa.

LEFT MILLIONS

To Colleges in All Parts of The World.

John Stewart Kennedy, one of America's little known rich men, who died of whooping cough at his New York residence in November, left bequests of more than $25,000,000 to religious, charitable and educational institutions in his will. The gift is the largest single contribution of its kind ever made. Nearly half of the $25,000,000 goes to institutions connected with the Presbyterian Church, of which Mr. Kennedy had been an active member.

Aside from these gifts Mr. Kennedy left approximately $35,000,000 to his wife, his relatives, friends and employees. The widow's share will be about $16,000,000. All of the testator's employees received gifts of from $500 to $2,000 each. Among the bequests are:

Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, Presbyterian Board of Home Missions, Presbyterian Church Extension Fund, Presbyterian Hospital, New York, each $2,250,000; Robert College, Constantinople, $1,500,000; Presbyterian Board of Aid for Colleges, $750,000; Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, New York Public Library, Columbia University, each $2,250,000; United Charities, New York, $1,500,000; American Bible Society, $750,000; Charity Organization Society, $750,000; Yale College, Amherst College, Williams College, Dartmouth College, Bowdoin College, Hamilton College, each $100,000; University of Glasgow, Scotland ("where from my infancy I resided until I came to this country"), Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, Hampton Normal School and Agricultural Institute, each $100,000; Lafayette College, Easton, Pa.; Oberlin College, Oberlin, O.; Wellesley College, Barnard College, Teachers' College (Columbia University), Elmira College for Women, Elmira, N. Y.; Northfield Seminary, Northfield, Mass.; Mount Herman Boys' School, Gifford, Mass.; Anatolie College, Marsovan, Turkey, each $50,000; Syrian Protestant College, Beirut, Syria, $25,000; American School at Smyrna, Turkey, $20,000; Lake Forest University, Lake Forest, Ill.; Centre College, Danville, Ky., each $25,000,000; Berea College, Berea, Ky., $50,000; Presbyterian Board of Relief for Disabled Ministers, $30,000.

Are't they beauties! A full line of ladies' and Misses' gloves at the Louisville Store.

Here's Carrie Again.

Mrs. Carrie Nation, who went to Washington to keep her eye on Congress, went into the buffet of the Union Station and taking out her hatchet, wielded it indiscriminately, smashing about $50 worth of candelabras.

She was at once arrested and taken to the House of Detention, charged with destroying private property. A large crowd of persons in the station was attracted by the commotion and excitement ran high.

A beautiful line of leather purses and leather hand bags for ladies. No better Christmas gift.

22-3. Roberts & Mastin.

Returning From China.

Word has been received from China that Miss Mary Moorman, formerly of Cloverport, Ky., is on her way home. She has been a Baptist missionary in China for three or four years. On account of ill health she was compelled to return.

SANITARY SAFEGUARDS.

Rules for the Regulation of Bakeries Are Adopted.

Stringent rules regulating the conduct of bakeries within the State of Kentucky were adopted at a meeting held in Louisville under the auspices of the State Pure Food Commission and the State Board of Health. One of the rules adopted prohibits the placing of stickers or labels of any kind on the loaf or cake, or any other product of the bakery, although this does not mean that such a sticker shall not be placed on the outside of a wrapper.

BAKERY REGULATIONS.

The rules follow: Buildings must be absolutely clean, well-lighted, drained, ventilated and plumbed.

Employees shall, before beginning work, thoroughly wash their hands and arms, and employers must provide utensils for this purpose.

Persons afflicted with or exposed to any contagious or infectious disease are prohibited from working in bakeries or handling the products.

All waste products or garbage shall be promptly removed from rooms in which bread is baked or stored.

All materials or ingredients used in making of products of bakery must be pure and wholesome, and up to the standard of pure food laws.

All products of bakeries shall be first wrapped in sanitary coverings before being handled or removed.

Flour, butter, eggs and other materials used in bakeries shall be kept in clean receptacles, free from vermin or other contamination.

All water used in baking shall be pure and wholesome, and not taken from a pipe which leads either into a water closet or a sewer.

Walls and ceilings of rooms used for baking must be washed clean with soap, kept screened, and shall not be used for any purpose other than baking.

Stickers on loaves, cakes or bakery product are absolutely prohibited.

You will be pleased with one of those lady's all wool white sweaters. The price is $1.98 and up at the Louisville Store.

WORK WEAKENS THE KIDNEYS.

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Mt. Sterling.

Most Mt. Sterling people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious house work; lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs. Mt. Sterling cures prove it.

H. W. Willoughby, W. Locust St., Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "I strained my back in doing some heavy lifting about two years ago and from that time on until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at F. C. Duerson's drug store I was in a miserable condition on account of a lameness in my back. I could scarcely bend over or regain an erect position and I lost one whole season's work on account of this disease. Some times my back ached so severely as to be almost unbearable. I used different remedies but did not find relief until a friend finally recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. By the time I had taken the contents of three or four boxes I was a well man. I have not had the least sign of trouble with my back or kidneys since. I am glad to give a testimonial in favor of such a reliable remedy as Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

IMPROVEMENT.

We have been told that a great transformation has taken place in the conduct of people who frequent the South Mayville street saloon district. The enforcement of the law works wonders. Honor to whom honor is due. Let the good work continue.

A BETTER WAY

Fines imposed and collected, and jail sentences have a tendency to make thoughtless and hasty people or criminals reflect before doing it again. Yet, there is a better way by which character is to be transformed. The Gospel is the power to save. Walking in the light there are self-control, regard for the rights of others, repentance toward God and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, with the pardon of sins and freedom from the dominion of sin. Hear his pleading: come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest.

FULL PARTNERS

In this issue is an article from The Commoner, Wm. J. Bryan's paper in which the distinguished editor assails the Government's partnership in the liquor traffic. The headlines are: "Full Partners, The Federal Government and the Liquor Traffic."

We hope every reader will reflect upon its sentiment. That partnership ought to be dissolved. It must be dissolved. We hope the present Congress will so modify the interstate commerce law that liquor can not be shipped from one State into another. State where the sale of intoxicants is forbidden by law.

Will Marse Henry Watterson be for or against Billy Bryan in 1912? This may be a premature and far-fetched question, but it will make mighty interesting reading from time to time for the next two and a half years. Mayville (Kentucky) Ledger.

We cross no bridges till we come to them, having in our time crossed many bridges which were harder to cross than that. By the way, if Mayville were not Mayville, but Hell-for-Sartin (which some folks suspect it of being) and your grandmother were your second cousin, and the middle of next week were the day before yesterday, which would you do, go a-fishing, or have a fit?—Courier-Journal.

Changes in Bank Employees.

On Wednesday at a meeting of the Directors of the Mt. Sterling National Bank, Mr. David Howell, who for 7 years has been Cashier, tendered his resignation, effective January 1, and same was accepted. The officials and patrons of the bank will regret to lose him from business circles. He and family will move to Florida in January. His business there has not been made public.

The vacancy in the Cashiership was filled by the election of Clark Patterson, who has been with the bank for about 5 years, first as Individual Bookkeeper, then as Assistant Cashier. Prior to his coming to our city he was for 3 years with the Farmers' Bank at Owingsville. He comes to his new responsibilities after these 8 years of experience, and will, we trust, maintain the high record of his predecessor.

At the same meeting Mr. W. L. Killpatrick, who has been with the Montgomery National since its organization, nearly 4 years ago, was elected to take the Assistant Cashiership of the Mt. Sterling National vacated by the promotion of Mr. Patterson. Prior to his going with the Montgomery National he had been with the Mt. Sterling National for 4 years.

In the Montgomery National Mr. Joseph Conner, who has been Individual Book-keeper, has been promoted to Assistant Cashier, and J. Clark Kemper, who has been with the Mt. Sterling National, takes the place vacated by Mr. Conner effective today.

A County Superintendent in a neighboring county asked every teacher at the county institute who took their local or county paper to hold up their hands and only 53 responded. The Superintendent, expressing great surprise, said: "You don't spend a dollar a year with those papers, yet you expect them to print free of charge notices of institutes, insert long programs, expect them to advertise you, thus assisting you to climb the ladder to better positions and better salaries, without a cent in return." Proposed Bridge Across Hinkston.

Many citizens of Montgomery and Bath along and beyond the Tipton & Graves pike are anxious for a bridge over Hinkston. This pike, 14 miles long, now extends to the Bath county line; the extension of it for 14 miles will reach the Grudgell Hill pike and will open up a large section of country, made accessible to our town at all seasons if a bridge is built over the creek.

The Fiscal Court will meet December 23, and the bridge proposition will be presented. A delegation of citizens will appear before the court.

Farmers beyond the terminus of the pike are now greatly inconvenienced in reaching our city, especially if the creek is swollen.

We shall be pleased to make further comment on the proposed bridge.

Poultry Notes.

Sometimes a hen eats eggs because all her wants in the food line are not supplied.

It is claimed by those who are in a position to know that Light Brauns will take on more flesh in a given time than will any other breed.

For one who loves poultry there is much pleasure in seeing and having fowls about us to say nothing of the profits.

Birds that have access to granaries sometimes take a notion to die suddenly when they look healthy, have red combs and are laying well.

If you live in a hilly country you ought to be successful raising turkeys. They thrive where it is hilly and in wooded districts.

Fowls that have been roosting outside are almost certain to take cold when moved to a warm close house.

Can't expect the hens to fill the egg basket unless their crops are filled with the right kind of food.

A damp musty cellar is not a good place to store eggs. If you wish to keep eggs for a short time for home use keep them in a dry cool place.

When fowls have been lately changed from one locality to another a falling off in the egg supply may be expected.

It requires lots of work to get very many of the hens down to the laying business, in winter, but it comes when other farm work is not pushing.

A Point in Weaning.

Pigs are often weaned too early, says the Practical Farmer. They are taken from the sow when not more than five or six weeks old. This means that they get more or less a set-back, even though they should be well cared for. Nor is there any necessity for weaning them so young, even though the dams should be bred twice a year. The period of gestation in a sow is sixteen weeks. Add to this eight weeks for suckling the pigs, and there are still two weeks left to complete the half year. Within those two weeks the sow is likely to come in heat again if she has been properly fed. When the pigs are to be weaned at eight weeks they should, if possible, be taught to take other food, beginning with skim milk when not more than three weeks old. They should get this food at first in a separate place. When crowded for room, two or three boards nailed across a corner of the pen will suffice to protect their food from the sow. As soon as they learn to drink the skim milk, which should be sweet and fresh, other foods may be added. Shorts will answer very well if not too coarse, but ground oats will probably give better results, especially if they have first been scalded. When managed in this way they will have become so used to the food by the time they are eight weeks old that they will grow without interruption.

Practical Economy.

If you would succeed in business, never spend a cent more than you earn. No matter how small your earnings, you should master this art. I use the word "art" advisedly, as so many young men appear to fritter away without so much as a thought, all their earnings.—Marshall Field.

The Federal Government and the Liquor Traffic.

The federal congress must sooner or later take notice of the activity of the liquor interests and their attempt to control the action of the federal government. They have entered national politics, and will pollute everything that they touch until they are driven out. We have already seen Democratic Congressmen dragged into the Republican camp by these interests, when a fight was being made over the rights of the house, for there is no question of the activity of the liquor interests in supporting Cannonism. Federal licenses are now issued to those who desire to sell liquor in territory in which local licenses are denied, and the brewers and distillers are still using interstate commerce to nullify the laws of the various States. Surely there can be no excuse for the issue of federal licenses to liquor dealers in territory where the local authorities have prohibited the sale of liquor. The charge for a federal license is $25 per year, and when a federal license is issued upon the payment of this sum the federal government either obtains the money without consideration or it enters into partnership with the violator of the law.

Three objections have been made to the proposition that the federal government should refuse to issue licenses in dry territory, namely, First, that taxes should be uniform and that the government can not, therefore, collect a license tax in one community and refuse to collect such a tax in another; Second, that the federal government could not prosecute a person for selling without license if it refused to issue a license; Third, that the issue of a federal license is useful in that it enables the local authorities to ascertain from the record who are engaged in the traffic.

These three objections might be met by a law reducing the license to $1, and providing that notice of the issue of such license be posted immediately in the postoffice in the town in which the licensee resides and requiring publication of notice in a local newspaper. The $1 would not more than cover the cost of issuing and recording the license and posting the notice, and such a law would take the government out of partnership with the law breakers.

By what logic can one justify the action of the Federal Government in permitting interstate commerce to be used to nullify State regulation of the liquor traffic? If a State can be trusted to protect property and to prescribe rules for the descent of estates, can it not be entrusted with the power to regulate the sale and use of liquor? If the State can be entrusted with the enactment and enforcement of criminal laws, even to the exacting of the death penalty, can it not be entrusted with the power to control the liquor traffic?

It can, of course, be taken for granted that the liquor interests will oppose any legislation which has for its object the protection of society from the evils of intemperance, and they will, as they have in the past, threaten any party which refuses to bow down to the god which they have set up, but the Democratic party can better afford to invite their opposition than grovel in the dust to secure their approval.—The Commoner, December 10.

Warns the People.

In his speech at Florence, S. C., President Taft warned the people of the South:

"I am told there is something in the price of cotton that makes your voices a little louder, your smiles a little wider and your contentment a little greater, but, my friends, you ought not to be carried off your feet by prosperity and fail to call for a maintenance of high standards of business morality and citizenship. The price of liberty is eternal vigilance, and I say to you that the price of elevating moral standards is eternal vigilance."

The Canal Government.

A radical change in the Isthmian canal administration is provided for in a bill introduced by Chairman Mann, of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. The bill eliminates the canal commission and transfers all of its powers to a director general. It provides also for a civil government on the Canal Zone under the President's direction. An interesting feature is that the popular appellation of "Panama Canal" is heretofore to be the official designation in place of "Isthmian Canal."

Children Can Not Go Back To Mother.

In Fayette Circuit Court arguments were made before Judge Parker by Attorney Hobbs, representing the local Knights of Pythias' Widows' and Orphans' Home, and J. Craig Shelby representing Mrs. F. Stewart in the habeas corpus proceedings by which Mrs. Stewart sought to have her three children released from the Home.

Judge Parker in rendering the decision in the case said:

"There is no doubt but that the children have been cared for at the Knights of Pythias Home far better than it would be possible for Mrs. Stewart in her present circumstances would be able to do for them. Including herself and children she would have five persons to support on a salary ranging from $2.50 to $4 a week. While the children expressed a desire to return to their mother, I feel that they are not competent to decide what course is best for them to pursue. The evidence in the case shows that the Home has expended on each child an annual sum of $179, an amount larger than the State expends on an aged insane person. The children are well clothed. While they express a desire to return to their mother they seem cheerful and contented with the conditions at the Home."

Mrs. Stewart resides at Oliver Springs, Tenn. She is the widow of Luther Stewart, a victim of a mine accident which occurred at Straight Creek, Ky.

First Car Is Run.

The first car to be run over the track of the new interurban line between Lexington and Nicholasville made the trip December 5, seven miles from Lexington and beyond the Jessamine county line.

The track has been laid about seven miles out of Lexington and about three miles out of Nicholasville. There is yet a gap of two or three and a half miles. The line is expected to be completed and cars running between Lexington and Nicholasville by the middle of January, dependent on the weather.

Wanted: 50 Men and Women.

Dr. S. Lloyd, the enterprising druggist, is advertising today for fifty men and women to take advantage of the special half price offer he is making of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia and get a fifty cent package at half price, 25 cents.

So positive is he of the remarkable power of this specific to cure these diseases, as well as sick headaches and liver troubles, that he agrees to refund the money to any customer whom this medicine does not quickly relieve and cure.

With Dr. Howard's specific at hand, you can eat what you want and have no fear of ill consequences. It strengthens the stomach, gives perfect digestion, regulates the bowels, creates an appetite, and makes life worth the living.

This is an unusual opportunity to obtain 60 doses of the best medicine ever made for half its regular price, with the personal guarantee of a well known business man to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction. 21-23

COURTESY IN THE STREET CAR.

Something of a Reversal of the General Rule.

"Do you suppose that's an effect of the recent agitation of women's rights?" asked the man, indicating with a nod of his head a scene that was taking place in an "L" car in the homeward rush. His companion looked and saw a slender, handsomely groomed woman offer her seat to a young man who, in the crush, was standing in front of her and was carrying an armful of large, heavy books.

The young man looked rather embarrassed and bravely declined with a pleasant little smile, which was all he could accomplish in lieu of raising his hat with his heavily laden lumbered hands.

"Well, then," said the lady composedly, resuming her seat, "let me hold the books in my lap."

"That would certainly be kind, if you don't mind," consented the youth, relinquishing his load, and when the lady reached her station, leaving her seat to him, he thanked her for her thoughtfulness with fully as much gratitude as a woman would have expressed for a similar courtesy from a man—perhaps with more appreciation, the experience being more rare.

AT HARVARD FIFTY YEARS AGO.

N. S. Shaler Tells Us of the Life of a Senior.

He was a senior in Harvard college and had a well-deserved name for scholarship in the classics, as well as for a miscellaneous assortment of talents and knowledge. He was reputed to be the best player of the game of checkers in the country; knew the political history of the United States amazingly well; was learned in pugilism, having at his tongue's end the story of all the prize-fights of recent times; whilst he was the merriest fellow I ever seen. I well recall my first morning with him, when, after going over the best of what I could and could not do, he asked me if I could box. I pleaded guilty to some knowledge of that ignoble art. At that time I had not learned of his interest in it, and thought that I would endeavor in his eyes by the confession. To my surprise, indeed to my horror, for I had a swordman's contempt for the business, he insisted on my having a bout with him at once.—N. S. Shaler's Autobiography, in the Atlantic.

Two Marks of Beauty.

Beautiful eyes and brows are, in one sense, a special gift of nature. Many a plain woman is redeemed by eye eyes; many a pretty face spoiled by red-rimmed, watery eyes. But at the same time a great deal may be done to make even unpromising eyes clear and attractive, to render eyes which are fairly passably pretty really beautiful.

Attention to the general health will go far to make the eyes clear and bright and prevent fatigue, even when they are called upon to do a great deal of work.

Have you ever noticed the dull eyes of a person afflicted with dyspepsia; the yellow tinge of overloading and neglected liver; the listless eyes of the woman who sleeps all night and is called upon to do a great deal of work.

When it's a Nod.

"The Balmer" was the title of the young painter's picture, the first that he had ever shown. It hung, unnoticed, on the line.

"But," said his friend, "you have done nothing to draw a crowd!"

"I've done my best work," said the young painter.

"Judge" was the retort. "Work draws, but there are better magnets. At the Paris exhibitions every artist, until he makes a name, hangs a picture to keep a crowd about his dubs."

A painting like "The Balmer" always, in Paris, has the model very carefully dressed, strolling idly back and forth near it. The resemblance between her and it is at once perceived. And the result is the greatest curiosity—an immense crowd—a tremendous hit."

To Save Horses from Fire.

When a horse is released from his stall during a fire, says a technical paper, he will not leave the stable for the stall is the only place in which he believes himself to be safe. A new patented device, which consists of a pipe running through the stall to the outside of the stable is designed to cure this. In case of fire a turn of a handle brings a hose nozzle into position and a stream of water pours over the head and shoulders of the horse, which drives him into the gangway, from which it becomes a comparatively easy matter to lead him into the street.

At One Shot.

A sportsman of great imaginative gifts and fond of telling his exploits, related that at one shot he had brought down two partridges and a hare. His explanation was that although he had only hit one partridge the bird in falling had eluded at another partridge and brought that to earth entangled in its claws. "But how about the hare?" he was asked. "Oh," was the calm reply, "my gun kicked and knocked me backward and I fell on the hare as it ran past."—The Sketch.

A Romance in Song.

It was "In the Good Old Summer Time" that "Annie Laurie" was sitting in "The Old Arm Chair." "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree" and the "Mocking Bird" was singing in the boughs above her head, and "Just as the Sun Went Down" "Bill Bailey" came from "Down in Dixie" with the "Three Leaves of Shamrock" tied up in the "Little Old Red Shawl" and placing a "Sweet Bunch of Daisies" from the "Valley of Kentucky" in her hand said, "If You Love Me, Darling, Tell Me with Your Eyes."

She suggested they take a moonlight ride "Way Down upon the Suwannee River" "On a Bicycle Built For Two," and it was then he asked her to be his wife. She accepted and they went home immediately to "Break the News to Mother" in the "Little Old Log Cabin in the Lane."

Their wedding took place in her "Home, Sweet Home," "When Autumn Bids Summer Good-Bye." "Nellie Gray" was maid of honor and "Yankee Doodle" was best man. "Sweet Marie" and Annie Rooney" were bridesmaids, and the flower girls were the "Two Little Girls in Blue." The ceremony was performed in "The Church Across the Way." "After the Ball Was Over" they left mid "Showers of Blessings" for a trip "Mid the Green Fields of Virginia." "When the Harvest Days Are Over" they will return to their "Old Kentucky Home" "Down on the Farm" and go to housekeeping "In the Little Rust Cottage By the Stream."

Cures Chicken Pox.

Mrs. J. T. English, Harrods Creek, Ky., says: "Your Bourbon Poultry Cure is fine. You can catch Chicken Pox to the list of diseases that it will cure as my fowls show a decided improvement. I had used other remedies without any success." Sold by W. S. Lloyd. 23-2.

America produced $95,000,000 worth of gold last year, and $90,000,000,000 worth of agricultural products. There's a nice pot of gold to be dug up in the course of a year on every well-tilled farm, and it grows each year where the soil is treated as an infant industry instead of being robbed as ruthlessly as the ultimate consumer is robbed by the Payne law.

Relief from catarrh, coughs, colds, hay fever, asthma and bronchitis, can be had in five minutes simply by breathing the soothing, healing, balsamic air of Hyomei over the sore and raw membrane.

It Sure Is.

As a striking illustration of what it is to be poor, there was recently a picture on exhibition in one of the show-windows of Danville that certainly "took the cake" for aptitude and touching the spot. It was a representation of a small boy, holding in the palm of his open hand four pennies, and contemplating with longing and wishful eyes a sign which read: "Soda water five cents." And underneath the figure of the child his mournful ejaculation, "Ain't it hell to be poor!" This picture so struck the fancy and the financial condition of one of the Danville football enthusiasts upon his return from Lexington the day after Thanksgiving game that he immediately borrowed the price of the picture, purchased it, and carried it around town in order to enlist the sympathy of his friends.

To Cure a Kicking Cow

To cure a kicking cow is often a difficult and tedious task, and unless some method of restraining them from kicking is adopted, more loss than profit may result through spilt milk. The person milking also runs considerable risk of injury in some form or other.

When the cause of kicking can only be assigned to vice or an acquired bad habit, the following little arrangement will be found useful, says Farming World, and, at the same time, simple, harmless, effective, inexpensive and easily applied. A strap about an inch wide should be buckled around each hind leg a little above the hock, sufficiently tight to compress the hamstring.

The animal cannot kick, and if the flies are troublesome and cause her to switch her tail, the best plan is to either strap it to her leg or secure it to one of the straps with a piece of cord. Use the straps every time the animal is milked, and after three weeks or so omit, to ascertain whether a cure has been effected or not.
